

Name: _____ Date: _____

The Living Organisms and Their surroundings

Q1. Fill in the blanks.

- i. All living organism reproduce their own _____.
- ii. The plants and animals that live on land are said to live in _____.
- iii. _____ help the fish to absorb oxygen dissolved in water.
- iv. _____ is called the ship of the desert.

Q2. True/False

- i. Growth in living thing is a permanent and irreversible change. _____
- ii. Non-living things do not reproduce. _____
- iii. Respiration in plants takes place in day. _____
- iv. The living things such as plants and animals, in a habitat, are its abiotic components. _____

Q3. Name two plants that reproduce through cuttings.

Ans. _____

Q4. How do earthworms breathe?

Ans. _____

Q5. What is a prey?

Ans. _____

Q6. What are predators?

Ans. _____

Q7. What is stored in camel's hump for use in emergency situations?

Ans. _____

The Living Organisms and Their surroundings

Q1. Fill in the blanks.

- i. All living organism reproduce their own kind.
- ii. The plants and animals that live on land are said to live in terrestrial habitats.
- iii. Gills help the fish to absorb oxygen dissolved in water.
- iv. Camel is called the ship of the desert.

Q2. True/False

- i. Growth in living thing is a permanent and irreversible change. True
- ii. Non-living things do not reproduce. True
- iii. Respiration in plants takes place in day. False
- iv. The living things such as plants and animals, in a habitat, are its abiotic components. False

Q3. Name two plants that reproduce through cuttings.

Ans. Rose and Menhdi (henna) plant

Q4. How do earthworms breathe?

Ans. Earthworms breathe through their skin.

Q5. What is a prey?

Ans. An animal that is killed by another for food is called a prey.

Q6. What are predators?

Ans. Predators are the animal which kills other animals for their food.

Q7. What is stored in camel's hump for use in emergency situations?

Ans. Fat is stored in camel's hump for use in emergency situations.