

Name: _____ Date: _____

Urban Livelihoods

Q1. Why government is thinking about modifying the law that banned street vendors?

Ans. _____

Q2. What are the differences between those who sell on the street and those in the market?

Ans.

who sell on the street	who sell in the market
1. They buy things from local market.	1. They buy things from the bigger towns or the manufacturing cities.
2. They don't need licence to do business.	2. They need licence to do business.
3. Shops on the street are temporary.	3. Shops in the market are permanent.

Q3. How do people working on the street manage their work?

Ans. _____

Urban Livelihoods

Q1. Why government is thinking about modifying the law that banned street vendors?

Ans. The government is thinking about modifying the law that banned street vendors, so that they have a place to work and that there is also a free flow of traffic and people. Hawking zones have been suggested for towns and cities. It has also been suggested that mobile vendors should be allowed to move around freely.

Q2. What are the differences between those who sell on the street and those in the market?

Ans. Difference

who sell on the street	who sell in the market
1. They buy things from local market.	1. They buy things from the bigger towns or the manufacturing cities.
2. They don't need licence to do business.	2. They need licence to do business.
3. Shops on the street are temporary.	3. Shops in the market are permanent.

Q3. How do people working on the street manage their work?

Ans. They work their own. They are not employed by anyone and therefore have to organise their own work. They have to plan how much to purchase, as well as where and how to set up their shops. Their shops are usually temporary structures: sometimes just some boards or papers spread over discarded box or maybe a canvas sheet hung up on a few poles. They may also use their own carts or simply a plastic sheet spread on the pavement.