

Name: _____ Date: _____

From Gathering to Growing Food

Q1. In what ways grain was used by the early people?

Ans. _____

Q2. Why were people buried with animals, like goats?

Ans. _____

Q3. Where people stored the grains?

Ans. _____

Q4. Write one of the distinctive features of a village.

Ans. _____

Q5. Where is Daojali Hading?

Ans. _____

Q6. Explain the term 'Domestication'.

Ans. _____

From Gathering to Growing Food

Q1. In what ways grain was used by the early people?

Ans. Grain was used by early people as seed, as food, as gifts and stored as food.

Q2. Why were people buried with animals, like goats?

Ans. The dead person was buried with goats, which were probably meant to serve as food in the next world.

Q3. Where people stored the grains?

Ans. They began making large clay pots, or wove baskets, or dug pits into the ground to store grains.

Q4. Write one of the distinctive features of a village.

Ans. One of the distinctive features of a village is that most people who live there are engaged in food production.

Q5. Where is Daojali Hading?

Ans. This is a site on the hills near the Brahmaputra Valley, close to routes leading into China and Myanmar.

Q6. Explain the term 'Domestication'.

Ans. It is the name given to the process in which people grow plants and look after animals.